YEP-642 II	Part of the new line of "Neo" brass band instruments, the YEP-642II (S) was designed with input from renowned euphonium teacher Bill Millar and acclaimed soloist Steven Walsh. By changing some major parts of the instrument we achieved the specific Brass Band sound we were looking for. A sound that has got a lot of power and projection while keeping the blending with the saxhorn section of Baritone and Tenor Horns. YBB-632	The new Bb Bass model YBB-632(S) is a complete redesign for the needs of all brass band players. Together with Simon Gresswell Yamaha designed an instrument which can lead the low-brass section with a large and voluminous sound which never loses focus easily. The exceptional large bell of 500mm is just one major point. The ergonomically enhanced valve cluster and 4th valve position offers great comfort and better operability. MSS-9314

The new 14"x9" SFZ (Sforzando) marching snare drum is a full three inches shorter in depth than the standard Yamaha SFZ snare drum. With a short nine-inch shell depth for a quick snare response, the drum offers a light weight six-ply maple shell for a clear articulate projection. An additional benefit: The short size allows easier range of movement for competitive indoor marching ensembles. Head: batter side - Yamaha REMO White Max, snare side - Yamaha Remo Falam II snare side.
